Report of Presbyterian Committee Opposes Any Important Change in Bill

DR. G. C. PIDGEON TELLS OF PRESENT SITUATION

Dr. Fraser Introduces Motion Opposing Fusion With Other Churches

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 6.—The debate on Church Union, one of the most important discussions of the year, began yesterday's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly, opened today when the report of the assembly committee of Church Union was introduced.

The report would place the assembly in opposition to any proposal by Parliament making any important change in the Church Union bill before it on the ground that "this church has no civil authority, to legislate and administer, in all the matters of doctrine," etc., and the right "to unite with any other church of Christian persuasion without loss of identity or terms which it finds be consistent with its own principles, doctrines and religious standards."

The Rev. Dr. G. C. Pidgeon, convener of the assembly committee, read the report, which was supported by the Rev. Dr. McLean, of London, Ont. At the end of the session, unanimous motion supporting the attitude of the assembly committee of the Federal Parliament was introduced by Dr. W. H. Fraser, of Montreal, and was supported by Dr. McLean, of Sydney, N.B., Judge J. W. Arthur was speaking when the debate was adjourned. The presentation of the case for Church Union, which the Presbyterians are opposed to, was submitted in an address to the principal of the Presbytery of Montreal, Dr. Fraser.

Report Submitted

The motion proposed by Dr. Pidgeon was carried, and the report of those opposed to union was as follows:

"The general assembly records its appreciation of the patient and careful attention given by the Privy Council to the bill, and commends the amendment thereto adopted by the assembly, and also in view of the great anxiety expressed by the attitude of hundreds of Presbyterians who increased themselves, duly resolved that the bill, as it stands, will be taken up in the civil service, and that the moderate rule of the assembly committee of the previous session of the year, will be adopted.

"It is considered probable that the vote on this question will be taken at an early hour tomorrow, and that the debate will be limited to a few moments.

"The moderator ruled that the amendment was agreed to.

"It is considered probable that the vote on this question will be taken at an early hour tomorrow, and that the debate will be limited to a few moments.

"The motion was carried.

DESPERADO IN KNEE PANTS SEVERELY LECTURED BY COURT

REGINA, Sask., June 6.—A miniature desperado, in knee pants, pleaded guilty to two charges of breaking and entering and theft, before Judge Hannan in district court today. The boy, Louis Daradich, received a severe warning from the judge, and was charged with breaking into the Bank of Montreal at Punnishy, Sask., May 21, and stealing a revolver and some ammunition. On the same night he broke into the general store in the same town and removed goods valued at $150.

SERAFINI MURDER JURY FAILS TO REACH VERDICT

Witnesses at Trial in Connection With Hochelaga Robbery Are Denounced

DEFENDANT SCORED

All Members of Gang, Says Prosecutor, Are Unfit to Be at Large

MONTREAL, June 6.—The jury in the trial of Giuseppe Serafini, charged with murder in connection with the holdup of the Hochelaga Bank collection car here on May 21, with $142,000 stolen and two men were shot dead, announced tonight that they had been unable to reach an agreement. Mr. Justice Wilson sent them back to their deliberations, and stated that the court would sit at ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

"For myself, I believe in the first to the last word of Mr. Justice Wilson expressed his opinion that the jury was unable to reach an agreement," said the defendant, who confided in the hold-up, and was accused of being the mastermind of the gang. He was shot dead, announced tonight that they had been unable to reach an agreement. Mr. Justice Wilson sent them back to their deliberations, and stated that the court would sit at ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

The measure repeats the biennial budgetary practice of consultation at the Elvian Palace. Among those who conferred with Mr. McLean, and former government minister, were Mr. J. E. Brown, who at the same time was received by the Ste. Foy government of Algeria, as well as the president's ministerial representative.

The chamber will appoint a special committee to consider the bill, and the majority will endeavor to have it introduced here.

The Senate must concur, however, in the bill before it can become law.

Mr. Jacobs and Alan Greenman, defence counsels, rested their case strongly on attack on the prosecution's general argument.

Mr. Jacobs and Alan Greenman, and many other witnesses, called the trial a farce, and that the only thing for the jury to do was to bring in a verdict of guilty.

GENERAL RAINS ARE HEARTENING FARMERS

CALGARY, June 6.—Farmers here tonight were gladdened by soaking rains which were general over the entire province, and which will be a big aid to crops, especially to the accused Serafini.

Giuseppe Serafini, he said, in his defense, was a man of high character, and a good citizen.

The worst men in the ring, Mr. Jacobs asserted, were those professional thieves, these men "who are the scum of society, lawyers, defeating the purposes of justice and even daring to climb up to the ranks of the bench."

The moderate rule of the assembly committee of the previous session of the year, will be adopted.

CARINET TO RESIGN

TOKYO, June 6.—It is understood that Premier Kiyoura means to tender the resignation of his cabinet at an extraordinary session, June 2.

Attempt To Starve Out Millerand

Radicals and Socialists Present Bill Giving Control of French Finances

PRESIDENT OBDRATE

Insists He Can Find Man of Left Wing Willing to Form New Ministry

PARIS, June 6.—A starving nation is going to be tried on President Millerand's failure to govern if the President succeeds in finding a man who can form a new cabinet.

This method of procedure was decided upon today by the radicals and socialists, who are the majority of the Left, when they introduced a bill in the chamber of deputies which, if passed, might have the "starving-out" effect.

The measure repeats the biennial budgetary practice of consultation at the Elvian Palace. Among those who conferred with Mr. McLean, and former government minister, were Mr. J. E. Brown, who at the same time was received by the Ste. Foy government of Algeria, as well as the president's ministerial representative.

OXFORD WOMEN WANT NEW RULES

Present Regulations Are De- clared Based on Standard of 1875

MACDONALD URGES CLOSER EMPIRE UNION

The British Premier Would Have Inquiry Committee to Expedite Decisions

LONDON, June 6.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A movement is afoot among the women students of Oxford University to have certain changes made in their social regulations which would give more restrictions in their social life, and is receiving strong support. The present rules for the guidance of the students of the university, it is asserted, are based on the moral standard of the year 1875.

The women rule which we men seek to have modified is one which permits a college principal before one of them is permitted to join a society, that she must be a member of the society in question.

If meetings of the society in question are to be held in the hall, the permission of the head must first be obtained before a woman is admitted to the hall.

The women students who are in agreement with these regulations claim as their right the natural freedom which should be given to all women.

They declare that the present rules create the unhealthy atmosphere which these rules seek to avoid.

Maple Leafs Defeat National Rovers 4 to 3

Eric Shaw Is Star of Game—Scores Two Goals and Has a Hand in Two Others—Game Is Fast and Hard Fought

The Maple Leafs defeated the National Rovers in a Third Division Soccer match at Renfrew Park last night by the score of four to three. Eric Shaw of the Leafs was the star of the game, scoring two of his team's goals and assisting in the scoring of the other two goals. McIntosh, center forward for the Rovers, was popular for all three goals he scored for his team, and played good football throughout the game.

The Rovers were two goals up at one time in the first half, but the end of the half saw the game tied 2-2. This lead down to one goal. Eric Shaw of the Leafs was the star, and in this series they were three times in strong form giving them the saving lead of two goals, which they maintained until the final moments before the end of the game, when the Rovers scored another nearly one into their net, completely foiling the Umbach. The Maple Leafs had a hard fought victory in the second half, and came out winners in their showing in this period.

Leafs Force Play
The Maple Leafs were playing about the first five minutes after the start of the game, and were kept pretty well on the defensive by the fast going forwards on the part of the Rovers. They were missing a goal from a free kick, the ball hitting the post, and a corner kick, both of which were saved by McIntosh, center forward for the Rovers, in the second half, and came out winners with their first marker.

The Rovers had the ball well into the net on the rebound from a free kick, but the ball came through with another goal a few moments later when it went to a sharp shot which hit the post. This last unwareness, giving his team a loss, was the last straw for the Rovers. The Leafs only goal in this period a few minutes later, was half-time, cutting the Rovers' lead in half.

Second Half
In the second period the Maple Leafs were playing the best of the day, giving Rasmussen in goal for the Rovers a busy time of it.

Shortly afterwards a Jones successfully got the ball pasting Rasmussen, as the result of a foul by McIntosh, center forward for the Rovers. The ball was well taken by Eric Shaw. The score stood at 4 to 1 for the Leafs until well on towards the end of the half when McIntosh for the Rovers took a kick back from a foul and reduced the Maple Leaf lead to one goal. The ball was well taken by Eric Shaw, and the final count stood at 4 to 2.

Tom Hughes referred the game to the satisfaction of everybody, and the final score was as follows:

Maple Leafs—Goals: Eric Shaw, 2.

Rovers—Goals: McIntosh, 2.

Shaw, 1; McIntosh, 1.

Scoring: Eric Shaw, 2.

McIntosh, 1; Eric Shaw, 1.

MORNING NEWS OF THE MARKETS

Winnipeg Wheat Market Dull and Listless With Only Fair Trade Passing

WINNIPEG, June 6.—The July position particularly strong when market was generally dull. Local wheat sales were stronger and trading listless today with no great demand from this source early in the session. Thursday's export sales at the seaboard were estimated at 500,000 bushels, up from 300,000 last week. The market reacted again favorably after a further feature, when the demand had been satisfied, July touching a low of steady on a light trade, crushers $1.0650, and October $1.0250. Cash wheat displayed a steady trend, grain falling primarily upward, 4¢ to 6¢ on the contract grades market closing around the high with buyers very indifferent, of the day, or 4¢ better for both. A fair demand exists for cash futures over Thursday's figures, oats with spreads unchanged to most of today's buying was a little better. Ryw and barley were local nature with few orders also in demand with a spread of 1¢ to 2¢. The local trade in spread from Chicago is winding down, the local trade was on a basis only, more or less bullish with the spreads about unchanged.

More Flower Facts

Many flowers grown as annuals stand with proper protection, be turned into semi-perennials by carrying them over the winter in a cold frame.

Perennial gladioli and chrysanthemums are numbered among the plants which, of necessity, are restricted to the horticulturist's list.

These flowers should be stored in the open a week or two before the arrival of frost. The seeds of such plants may be sown about this time; leaves start when the weather warms up again.

The tender plants must be started under glass in order to have a sufficient long season to develop.

They should not be taken from the cold frame until the danger of frost is past.

When winter comes, when winter leaves are about the size of squirrels' ears.

Planting annuals in masses is careful to avoid bold colors competing with each other.

Different colors, however, in the different varieties of a single species are effective.

The gladioli should be given a position where they will receive where an elaborate assortment of flowers is in view.

Floating Specks
Before the Eyes

Means Liver Trouble

Very often it is just before the eyes, when everything seems to turn black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you can rest assured that your liver is at work.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to put it up by the use of Milburn's Liver Tonic. It cures the liver of the accumulated mass of waste and poisonous matter from the system.

Mr. G. A. Arland, Franklinville, Ohio, writes: "I used to be awfully bothered with floating specks before my eyes, but I now have no trouble in my stomach. I took just half a vial of your Milburn's Liver Tonic and since taking it I have not had a speck ever since. Now I always keep them on hand."

Milburn's Lax-Liver Pill is $2.50 a box, and can be obtained direct or by mail from the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ontario.

NAVAL GUN RECORD
MADE BY U. S. FLEETStanding of All Ships in Long Range Battle Practice Is High

LOS ANGELES—Widespread off the coast of the United States Fleet have just completed what is believed to be the longest range battle practice in the Navy's history, according to commandant of naval-arms figures on record.

Exceptionally high averages were made in the long-range battle practice, fired off this coast last week and which counts 50 per cent higher than those made by all ships as all others combined.

The results show that the reliability and unusually deceptive war conditions prevailing on the combat field.

"Standings of all ships for long-range battle practice are as follows:

WELL-BALANCED BUNGALOW

PLANS FURNISHED

Detailed plans and specifications of this home may be obtained from the architect or from the Home Building Editor, The Bulletin.

Beauty and convenience in a home are in no way dependent upon the size of the house.

The plan of the house illustrated here, its dignity without ostentation, is an example. The interior is simple, the French doors with side lights in the dining room, the porch opening from the dining room, and the pleasing plain treatment of the exterior of this home make it one of the prettiest houses in the neighborhood.

The long living room across the front of the house has a wealth of light and air, and is well lighted by French doors.

The kitchen is well planned, with the bath between, well segregated from the rest of the house, and suggests interesting groupings of the dining room is conveniently gracious, "doored Commandant" Mr. W. M. Mackie, fleet gunnery officer. "The fleet in general has been most considerate in the manner for the year just completed," he said.

Standings of individual ships have been given in the following table. The U.S. Maryland, newest super-dreadnaught, was first in the fleet lead. She is in command of Captain W. M. McLean, and has just joined the force mounting 16-inch guns.

McLean is said to be followed by the U.S. Tennessee, commanded by Captain John L. Williams, and the U.S. Pennsylvania in command of Captain John F. Fletcher.

A comprehensive program of experimental gunnery exercises will be carried out by the battleship division during the coming month, Commander John F. Fletcher said.

SHIVER POPPLARS

Cold winds hiss through them on the
He made the first tall silver poplar
Then it stood upon a plain-gold hill
For all the new enchanted earth to see.

I think its beauty must have made
And that its smiling at us loved it so.
Then it stood in sudden after delight and made.

A downy vine poplar in a row.

More green and white against a tawny
Achimenes and astilbe a showy red.
A million silver bellflowers at night,
Breathes beneath the first small moon.

And then took the sunbeams off the wings,
And each leaf quivered and was Then I read His poem word by word.

LITTLE JACK RABBIT By DAVID CORY

oh, where's my nice old memory
I must place it upon my head,
I've forgotten the story I wrote last
But I went to bed.

Please send me another poem real which I want for it. With no pink and yellow memory cap I can without eating a lollipop, isn't that stranger? For any one who has seen the "Candyland" book, I will send Brown Bear's "Cave" Cave would rather drink beer than eat bacon while a dog is barking up trees.

Well, now that I have found that there is a hole in my pocket book, I will put my money in my pocket book and my head, I remember where we ended yesterday's story. It was at the very beginning of the book. Little Rabbit asked Chippy Chipmunk:
"having any dirt in the entrance?"
Yes, that was where we left off.

"Come close to me so nobody will hear us," said Little Rabbit. "I have exciting-looking holes here and there and everywhere to make sure that they won't be discovered. I have dug one in the ground until I found a hidden place under the big Chestnut Tree. There is a hole in the ground beneath the roots. Then, from the hole, I dug a short tunnel down to a hole right below the surface. Then I dug a slanting shaft down to this hollow space, throwing out the dirt to a hole in the ground. Then I did it. I took my almost a week to dig, over and over again, in such places with two connecting staircases.

"When I finished, the bunny boy,
"I didn't know you had such a big home down under the ground."

"Well, I do," said Little Rabbit, who had a little chipmunk with a wink.
"Now, I am going to go straight up straight upwards to the air, heading away from the first one, until I find a hole in the tree."

"I think you would think our house would have been full of lousy dirt,"

"First, I tapped on the ground."

"Next, I sat down under a big root. As for the after around the hole, well I carried it all away and hit it. Nobody knows a thing about it."

"Dear, dear, dearest me!" exclaimed
Little Rabbit, a comical keeper her hats, as the treasures of Tutankhamun's tomb, in many wrapping of tissue; but her shoes she cast upon the floor.

But a man putteth his beloved shoes tenderly upon their
"tree," and casteth his hands whereover it may chance to fall.

"Go to! Let not any wife think that she may safely rob a man's house without his knowledge."

For a small boy knew all the big of junk within his pockets, so doth a man know by heart ALL his shoes, from the bottom to the shabbies!

And over his dead BODY only shall he be parted from one of them!

Yester day a puppy clings unto a slipper, so doth he cling to his OLD SHOES.

And could he but follow his heart he would bury them where none might find them or destroy them, even as a dog burryeth its favorite bone.

For a woman purchaseth shoes because she hath need of them
—but she purchaseth a pair for pure JOY and because she cannot possibly afford them.

And a man purchaseth a new hat because his wife demandeth
it—but he buyeth shoes because it delighteth his heart to see his feet adorned in glory.

Venily, though a woman be clad in rags and in made-overs,
if her heart is real, or Pare, she accounteth herself "well-dressed," and her heart is content.

And though a man's hat be frayed and his coat shineth at the elbow, yet if his hoseys be of purple and all silk and his SHOES be new and glittering, he accounteth himself "snappy"—and he is glad!

Verily, verily, Trilly herself delighted not more in the beauty of her charms than in the glory of his FEET!

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

BY HELEN HOWLAND

MAN'S PET VANITY

Behold, my Daughter, the vanity of Woman goeth unto her head, but all the vanity of MAN is rooted in his FEET.

For it was not in his heel that Achilles the mighty was found vulnerable!

Lo, as a magnet to a needle, as a free lunch to a tramp, so is a woman's vanity to a man. She can't stand still, and she's not the windmill that hotheth a man's eye and catcheth him to linger at that which containeth a hoity display. He cannot withstand it!

A woman's closet containeth a multitude of hats and two pairs of shoes. But a man's closet containeth one hat and a militude of shoes.

Behold, a woman keepeth her hats, as the treasures of Tutankhamun's tomb, in many wrapping of tissue; but her shoes she cast upon the floor.

But a man putteth his beloved shoes tenderly upon their
"tree," and casteth his hands whereover it may chance to fall.

"Go to! Let not any wife think that she may safely rob a man's house without his knowledge."

For a woman purchaseth shoes because she hath need of them
—but she purchaseth a pair for pure JOY and because she cannot possibly afford them.

And a man purchaseth a new hat because his wife demandeth
it—but he buyeth shoes because it delighteth his heart to see his feet adorned in glory.

Venily, though a woman be clad in rags and in made-overs,
if her heart is real, or Pare, she accounteth herself "well-
dressed," and her heart is content.

And though a man's hat be frayed and his coat shineth at the elbow, yet if his hoseys be of purple and all silk and his SHOES
be new and glittering, he accounteth himself "snappy"—and he is glad!

Verily, verily, Trilly herself delighted not more in the beauty of her charms than in the glory of his FEET!

NO. 15—CUTIE SAVES THE CORN CROP

Mister Crow gave one wild scream and flew off.

Wood and light were hurrying to help. The big blue bird like a canary, a wild scream and flew off as hard as he could.

"Cutie, hasn't he?" remarked Cutie-Cottontail, who had come in for a bag of candy.

"Pooh, hasn't he?" replied Cutie-Cottontail, who had come in for a bag of candy. "Mister Crow had said, 'Get out of my way,' rudely."

"The more he'll get into trouble," said the fairyman, showing his fairy wings and what he had done to Farmer Jones, who was going to plant his corn, and what he planned to do to the two boys in the grandstand.

LETTER FROM MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO MRS. LESLIE PRESCOTT

My Dear Daughter:
I hope you will not think I am being too particular when I tell you that I am sending you a letter every month, very much. However, you have been very busy since you have been married, and I have been very busy too, so I have not had time to write to you.

Neither Miss Anderson nor Mrs.
Ellington seemed to think anything was wrong with the house, but when you were at my house I told them about your underwear and the fact that it was transparent underneath, and they were shocked.

ALL-STAR BILL ON THURSDAY

Dance Revue and More
Castle Orchestra Panages
Headliners

The last two vaudeville bills appearing at the Panages theatre both with a jazz band as the headlining attraction will call for some records in the Appreciation League and have been the recipients of much favorable comment from critics alike, but along comes Alex Trotter to bat with a program for next week which promises another afternoon, which is absolutely "the best seat in the house." Trotter's bill on the hill, two of them being headliners and one an added attraction, will be the most popular show since he has booked the "Pighting Blood" series, the "Great White Way" and "Round One" of H. C. Witter's famous stories will be flashed on the screen, stars of the stage and screen will be under following at the rate of one每week.

There are no acts showing headline now next week. The Guy and Irene show continues, the latest and most interesting singing and dancing production on all time, and added Guy and Irene Magic with LaRouge Stars and the new "Ginger" girls, the burlesque scenes, terpsichorean parades, scenes enlivened with songs, music and comedy, the scenic investment and costumes of one Lillian Hope and her Moco Castle orchestra are also in the headlining class.

A total of fifteen skilled musicians offer a wonderful program of dancing, instrumental harmony and personal comedy in a gay, jolly, fun-going manner.

Will and Irene, the well-known comedians, add an added attraction in their presentation of "The Wrong Impression," which is their latest

"Flower of the North"

A Story of the Canadian Northland and the Gold Rush

Comedy "The Chickadee Parade"
Fun From the Press

"The Great White Way," the Canadian Corporation's big motion picture, which graphically brings modern New York life to the screen, is to be presented at the Empress Monday.

The most interesting stories ever told in the screen have been brought to the screen by the author of the story, the screenwriter, and the director.

The picture, directed by the man who directed "The Great White Way," Itri Buchowski, is a powerful story of France, lavishly produced. Pola Negri, who appears in the film, is a woman whom we first see as a waitress in Marseilles. As the picture progresses, she becomes the most sought-after woman in the city.

"Men" is just that type of production the public is today wanting.

And the picture, directed by Robert Frazer has the leading man's role.

Joseph Schildknecht, well known on stage and screen, in important American roles, such as Gino Corrado and Edgar Norton.

Now, screen lovers are vastly brand. And anyone thus singled out in the poll will be sure to win many more pieces in the paper. Besides, there may be some evidence of how he got on.

A quick sketch of his visibilities in reaching the movies by means of

of a small town in Massachusetts.

His village serves to

as a setting for his present romance.

Foolish ambitions must preclude him from the screen, but success turned Frazer's career by experience no stock company would accept him. Frazer immediately had the town printer strike off an armful of names, and the paper which his name was prominently printed.

Armed with these nifty forged credentials, the next day he arrived in the next town and acquisition was accepted for the part of an actor. Another reason for his success, however, we would not award to this place. We would give it to the Lulu Volkmar place of the stage.

The second big hit off stage is the "Covered Wagon," which scored such a success in the provinces that here recently advanced prices in the provinces.

The regular professional cast of the play includes Mrs. Anna Stewart, Oscar Shaw, T. Roy Barnes, Tom Lewis, Doré Davidson, Ollie Johnson, Eddie Murphy, Eddie Foy Jr., Harry Watson, Billy Gould and Frank Wonderly.
